

Bryan Hurtgen (Director) This marks Bryan's third go at directing a full length show. If he let what's left of his hair grow, certainly it would all be gray by now! A husband, a father, a butcher, a director/actor...and losing his mind but enjoying it all!

Bill Stone (George Hay) has been in several SCT productions. In this one he is, once again, an aging not-so-famous actor with a drinking problem.

Theresa Apodaca (Charlotte Hay) has been involved with SCT since 2002. Theresa's favorite roles to date are Dotty Otley in Noises Off, and Julia in Lend Me A Tenor.

Warren Marts (Richard) has worked backstage and onstage in many Socorro-area productions. He directed the 2005 production of Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat. When not on stage or singing with the Tech Chamber Choir, he enjoys photography, skiing, and travel.

Alan Roes (Howard) has appeared in many shows for SCT, last appearing in SCT's production of The Importance of Being Earnest as Algernon Moncrief. He is very excited to be involved with this production and hopes the audience will enjoy it as much as he did the first time he read it! He would like to thank Bryan for getting him involved with Moon Over Buffalo, and the cast for all their hard work!

Luke Hanks (Paul Singer) Fresh out of high school, this is Luke's first experience with the Socorro Community Theater. His knowledge of the dramatic arts is acceptable, considering his thus far limited involvement. He currently attends New Mexico Tech, with the intention of teaching math and science at the high school level when he graduates.

Rose Smith (Ethel) is new to SCT. She is a native New Yorker who has performed, directed, and produced shows everywhere from community theater to off-Broadway. She is thrilled to be playing Ethel in Moon Over Buffalo.

Kelly Kempton (Rosalind) is so excited to be doing her second play with the Socorro Community Theater. She is especially excited to be doing a comedy! After her dramatic role as Nora in A Doll's House, Rosalind is so fun and refreshing. She wants to thank her husband and girls for all of their support.

Katherine Noe (Eileen) is a 2009 graduate from New Mexico Tech, where she was editor-in-chief of the student newspaper, Paydirt. She works at El Defensor Chieftain newspaper, drinks far too much coffee, and worries far too little. She lives with her kitten, Ace, and drunken roommate, Sam. This is her first acting performance ever.
